Damaged, faulty, wrong or missing goods

CHS Marketplace claims guide · Build 18 Oct 2026 (7) · for buyers, sellers and CHS admin

> The rule that protects everyone: while a claim is open, CHS keeps the seller's money for that order. Nothing is paid out and nothing is refunded until the case is decided. Every refund is approved by CHS and written down.

1. For buyers

Check first, then give the code

Your 6-digit delivery code tells CHS you have your goods. Give it only after you have checked them. If something is wrong, do not give the code. Tap Report a problem.

How to report

Open My deliveries, choose the order, tap Report a problem (at the door, or after delivery). Choose the item, what is wrong, how many units, describe it, add at least 2 clear photos (the item and the package or label) and say what you want: a refund, a replacement, or to return it for a refund. Follow it under Problem reports.

Problem	Report within
Damaged, wrong item, missing items, not as described	48 hours of delivery
Hidden fault (looks fine but does not work)	7 days of delivery
Not received	After the expected date, or if marked delivered but you have nothing
Refused at the door	Immediately; the seller then has 24 hours to reply

What happens next

The seller has 48 hours to accept, offer part of the money back or a replacement, or dispute with evidence. You then accept or reject an offer within 48 hours. If the seller is silent, or you cannot agree, CHS decides within 3 working days and writes the reason for both sides. You can add photos or withdraw at any time before the decision.

How your refund is worked out

Item	Rule
Goods	The price of the affected units
CHS buyer commission	Returned on the refunded goods
Bank processing fee	Not taken when the seller or CHS was at fault
Delivery fee	Returned only when the whole delivery failed
Breakage allowance (bulk goods)	Blocks 2%, tiles 3%, cement, iron rods and roofing 0%: the first few broken units are not refunded
Approval	CHS approves every refund; above ₦500,000 a second CHS admin must also approve

The refund goes to your CHS wallet. The decision notice shows every figure and can be printed.

Returns and replacements

Return: if CHS decides the goods must come back first, you receive a 6-digit return code, the address (a CHS collection centre or the seller) and 7 days. Give the code to the person who receives the goods; they enter it and describe the condition. CHS then approves the refund.
Replacement: you receive a replacement code. Check the new goods first, then give the code to the rider or seller. This closes the case.
Change-of-mind returns are not covered unless the seller's listing says so.

2. For sellers

- Pack with photos. When you tap "I have packed all items", add photos of the packed goods. Two or more are required for fragile items. They protect you.
- Reply on time. You are notified when a buyer reports a problem. You have 48 hours (24 hours for a door refusal). Accept, offer a part refund or replacement, or dispute with your photos and note. If you stay silent, CHS decides on the buyer's evidence.
- Rider statement. Tap "Create a rider link" and send it to your rider or courier. They answer five questions on their phone, no login. The link works once and expires after 7 days.
- Replacement. Record how it is travelling (rider name and phone, or courier). Enter the buyer's replacement code at handover to close the case.
- Money. If CHS decides the fault was yours, the refund comes out of your earnings, even money already paid to you; if your wallet is short, the rest is recorded and taken from future earnings. If the damage happened on a delivery CHS arranged, you keep your payment.
- Claim rate. My orders shows your claim rate for the last 90 days. Above 3% you are warned. Above 5% CHS reviews your listings, and early part-payments are stopped.

3. For CHS admin

- Queue: Oversight, Claims. "Needs CHS decision" shows cases where the seller was silent, disputed, or the buyer rejected an offer. Overdue cases are marked.
- Decide: read the evidence, packing photos, rider statement and history. Choose who was at fault: Seller, CHS delivery, Buyer, or Could not be established. Choose the outcome: refund, partial refund, return first then refund, replacement, or reject. The preview shows exactly what the buyer receives and what is taken from the seller. Write the reason; both sides read it.
- Second approver: a refund above ₦500,000 (or a fund payout above the per-order cap) waits for a different admin.
- Returns: choose CHS collection centre or the seller. When the goods arrive, enter the buyer's code and the condition, then approve the refund.
- Fund, rates and rules: the Delivery Protection Fund (transit insurance collected + top-ups − paid out), every seller's claim rate, breakage allowances and all claim settings (windows, reply times, limits) can be seen and changed here. Review the fund cap each quarter.
- Guards: while a claim is open, Release, Release a percentage and whole-order Refund are refused for that order. Early part-releases are also refused until the 7-day fault window has passed, or when the seller's claim rate is above 3%.

4. Time limits at a glance

Who	Time
Buyer reports visible damage / wrong / missing	48 hours from delivery
Buyer reports a hidden fault	7 days from delivery
Seller replies	48 hours (24 hours at the door)
Buyer answers an offer	48 hours
CHS decides	3 working days
Buyer returns goods	7 days

This guide describes how CHS works today. The Terms and Conditions (term 48 in the draft V9) are being reviewed by CHS's lawyer; the Terms prevail if there is any difference.
