"Managed by CHS": our answer to Fid's question

1. What we think of the feedback

It is the most useful feedback so far, for three reasons.

It proves the price promise matters. Fid paid about half a year's rent to move in: 30% agent, 15% legal and RCD, ₦5,000 inspection twice. Our published fee is 6% from the tenant. The gap between those two numbers is our whole pitch. He did not say the app was nice. He said he did not believe it was real. People will arrive with that same doubt.

His question exposes a real hole. Until now nothing on a listing said "CHS runs this one". A tenant could not tell our low-fee properties from anyone else's, and a dishonest agent could copy our name. A promise nobody can check is only a claim. This is a trust problem, not a design problem.

It shows how he judges. He judged us by what he was charged and by whether he could verify us. Our identity must therefore be about proof, not decoration.

2. What else makes life easier, from Fid's experience

Built now: - Move-in cost breakdown on every rent listing. Rent, CHS fee, any fee the lister declared, one total. On a CHS-managed listing it states plainly: no agent, legal, RCD or inspection fee. On other listings it tells the tenant to ask for every fee in writing. - Tag check page. Anyone can verify a tag before paying.

Already built earlier and worth telling people about: price, location, photos and video are mandatory; "DM for price" is blocked; listings must be re-confirmed available every 30 days (stops "it's gone, but see this other one"); anyone can report a listing; copied photos are flagged; all money goes through the CHS wallet with a receipt.

Worth building next (my suggestions, not done): 1. Inspection fee protection. Fid paid ₦5,000 twice because of competition. Option: free inspections on CHS-managed properties, or a fee that is refunded or credited if the property was already taken. A "this property has 3 people viewing it" counter would also reduce panic paying. 2. Move-in only after payment is the norm, so protect the money. Rent already sits in escrow until a clean move-in report. Say that loudly on the listing page. 3. Caution/RCD transparency. A refundable deposit recorded in the CHS wallet with a due date, so it cannot disappear. 4. A "fees asked" report button. Tenants report an agent who charged fees not on the listing. That builds our evidence for agents who ignore the rules. 5. Agent invitation. Offer other agents the same stamp if they sign the CHS fee schedule. This is how "encouraging them to reason with us" becomes a concrete step.

3. What we designed

There are two stamps and one tag.

| | Managed & Advertised by CHS | Advertised by CHS | No stamp |
|---|---|---|---|
| Who runs the property | CHS | Owner, with CHS checks | Owner or another agent |
| Fees | Rent + CHS fee only | Shown on the listing | Lister's own, shown on the listing |
| Look | Dark charcoal and gold | White and charcoal | Normal |

4. How the stamp and ID appear automatically, and cannot be faked

The key idea: the badge is never a picture someone attaches. It is drawn by the app from a field only CHS can set.

- Each listing has a status: none, advertised, or managed. Only a CHS admin can change it. The database itself puts back any change made by an owner or agent, even if they try to bypass the screens (tested).
- The first time a listing is stamped, a unique tag is created automatically, like `CHS-100002-3`. The last digit is a check digit, so a typo is caught as a typo. If the stamp is removed and later given back, the same tag returns.
- Listings created from an admin account become "Advertised by CHS" automatically. Everything else is stamped by an admin in Admin → CHS stamp (search the listing, press a button).
- Every stamp or removal is written to the audit log and the owner is notified.

Why a copied badge does not matter: anyone can screenshot a badge. Nobody can invent a tag that passes the Check a CHS tag page. A scammer's tag shows "CHS never issued this tag", a retired property shows "no longer active", and a mistyped tag shows "typing error". Tell tenants one rule: "No tag you can check, no CHS property."

What I did not do, and what you need to decide

- Who gets "Managed & Advertised"? The system does not decide this for you. Today an admin decides, one listing at a time. Please agree the real rule: for example, only properties where CHS holds a signed management agreement with the owner.
- Terms and Privacy. Using the CHS name, badge or tag on a property CHS has not stamped should be a stated violation with consequences. I have not changed the Terms, because that needs a lawyer and a new Terms version that everyone must accept again. I recommend adding it in the next version.
- Photos. I did not bake a watermark into photos. A watermark can be cropped out, and the tag check is stronger. It can be added later for CHS-managed photos only.
- Existing listings are all unstamped until an admin stamps them.
- The screens have not been seen on the live site. The database part was tested with rolled-back tests. The screens passed type, lint and build checks. Please do the quick walkthrough below.

Quick live test (10 minutes)

1. Log in as super admin → Admin → CHS stamp. Search for any listing. Press Managed & Advertised. Note the tag.
2. Open the listing: gold banner with the tag. Open the home page: the card has the gold border and label.
3. Press 🛡️ Managed by CHS only on the home page: only stamped listings show.
4. Open /verify-chs, type the tag in lower case: "Genuine". Change the last digit: "typing error". Type `CHS-555555-5`-style made-up tag: "never issued".
5. Admin → CHS stamp → Printable stamp sheet: seal, tag and QR code. Scan the QR with a phone.
6. Log in as that listing's owner. Try to edit the listing: the stamp stays, and the owner cannot remove or change it.
7. Admin → Remove stamp. Open /verify-chs with the same tag: "no longer active".
8. Open a rent listing: the What you pay to move in card shows the total.
